OPENING SESSION

Diamonds and Pearls Are Practice's Best Friend: Treatment Planning and Case Presentation

It's no secret: employees are a company's greatest asset, especially in a dental practice! Therefore, leveraging key patient experience-moments will have huge benefits and in turn, will maximize your practice profits. This course is designed to provide piles of "diamonds" on clinical techniques and treatment planning "pearls" essential to seeing long-term success and financial growth. From understanding patient decision-making to the tools and tips for getting patients to be "WOW-ed" with the overall experience, this course is designed to give a practical, "soup-to-nuts" approach to the latest clinical research, approaches to human behavior and includes special emphasis on team communication.

By the end of the program, the dental professional will be able to:

- Learn current trends in today's general practice and the market we exist in today
- Talk common sense, "real-world" approach to treatment planning, and the benefits of "Co-Diagnosis"
- Understand personality styles via the DISC model of human behavior
- Review clinical cases for the application of principles and products

Dentist & Dental Assistant

Digital Dentistry - A to Z

Dr. York will present current information on in-office CAD-CAM, including intraoral scanners and scanning methods for crowns, bridges, custom abutments, implant surgical guides and night guards. Incorporated into this presentation will be in-office milling and 3D printing. This course should help you decide if an in-office laboratory flow for many of the things your office may be currently sending out would be beneficial to you and your patients. Exocad will also be presented as the design software.

By the end of the program, the dental professional will be able to:

- Moving from an analog to digital workflow for many everyday procedures
- Utilizing current technologies for design and fabrication in-office, which keeps much of your current laboratory dollars under your roof
- Navigating the ROI and financial decisions on whether this is right for your office, and if so, what is the next step

Hygienist

Partnership in PERIO: Collaborating to Achieve Effective Patient Outcomes

Hygiene is an essential component of effective practice, and the collaboration between Doctor and Hygienist plays a vital role in achieving optimal patient outcomes. This course emphasizes the importance of harnessing this professional relationship to enhance the quality of patient care.

By the end of the program, the dental professional will be able to:

- Review team dynamics and daily challenges
- Provide common sense strategies to more effective communication between doctor and hygienist
- Discuss products and the therapies that benefit patient outcomes of care
