UP YOUR GAME: Making sense of technology and how to thrive with it in today's clinical practice!

With Dr. Chad Duplantis

The fast-paced digital world has taken a hold of dentistry. Our profession is beyond the 'want' phase and has entered the 'need' phase when it comes to incorporating digital technology into clinical practice. From the front to the back of the clinical setting, digital tools are a must for predictability, productivity and ultimately profitability. We will touch upon VOIP phones, intraoral scanning, CBCT, milling, 3D printing and much more.

Course Objectives:

- How to properly integrate digital technology into their everyday clinical practice for the entire team.
- Benefits of the multifunctional technology and its role in dentistry.
- The use of various technology in the diagnostic examination and throughout the lifecycle of the patient in the practice.
- Getting your team excited about integrating new technology
- The do's & don'ts regarding integration of new technologies into your practice.
